GOOD AND THE BAD

PROPOSITIONS ON THE CONSTITUTIONAL BALLOT

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Inaugurated Has for its Object the Exercise of Discrimination Between the Two

The campaign of education recently inaugurated by Secretary of State Cornelius Roach which has for its object an exercise of discrimination between the good and the bad propositions on the constitutional ballot by the voters next November is bearing fruit. Last week there were 278 rural newspapers in the state that gave to their readers the substance of the twelve measures that are proposed, eight being amendments to the Constitution and four referendum acts. These newspapers have an average circulation of 2,000 and thus directly reached approximately 556,000 of the 750,000 voters in the state. The fact that there is manifestly no probability of an early constitutional convention impresses the average citizen with the necessity of exercising his judgment at the polls on those measures as they are submitted separately at successive general elections. The history reveals that many measures defeated the first time submitted have been adopted at subsequent elections, and that voters in recent elections more favorably consider these proposed amendments than formerly. If this were not the case, the initiative and referendum amendment would not have been approved at the polls in 1908, for all that amendment did in this state was to add the enacting of statutory law to the power of constitutional law-making, which the Missouri voter has had ever since the adoption of the Constitution of 1875.

One important and interesting fact in connection with this subject which is better understood than formerly is that the majority of those voting on a measure decides the fate of that measure. If a measure receives one hundred thousand and one affirmative votes and one hundred thousand negative votes it becomes the law, regardless of how many hundred thousand votes more or less may have been polled at the same election for candidates for any office, or for any other measure.

The law in this state now provides for the printing of a ballot with the names of all the candidates thereon separate from the ballot containing the legislative measures. The voter that does not use the latter ballot is not counted either for or against any measure on that ballot. If he knows or cares nothing about these measures he displays better intelligence by not using the ballot than does the voter who takes the ballot and votes indiscriminately either for all the measures or against all the measures, with no regard for the merits of each. Friends of the initiative and referendum law, and the friends of good government generally, will advise that every voter exercise a discriminating judgment, favoring the good and opposing the bad. This ought not to be expecting too much from citizens enjoying a republican form of government in a state that has had universal free schools for generations.

Boiled down, the questions to decide this year in the order as they will appear on the ballot are as follows.

1. Do you, or do you not, want taxation questions handled by the general assembly only, or by popular vote?
2. Do you, or do you not, want to permit Kansas City to own its public utilities?
3. Do you, or do you not, want the state to levy a mill tax for aid in improving public roads?
4. Do you, or do you not, want to give St. Louis debt-making power to build or buy a subway for the purposes of rapid transit?
5. Do you, or do you not, want to give voters of a special or general road district power by majority vote to levy a local tax for good roads?
6. Do you, or do you not, want the state to provide pensions for the deserving blind?
7. Do you, or do you not, approve of making it easier for Kansas City and St. Louis to amend their charters?
8. Do you, or do you not, wish to fix by law the number of men a railroad company shall employ to make a "full crew" for operating certain trains?
9. Do you, or do you not, approve making the county the basic unit for regulating the liquor traffic?
10. Do you want St. Louis or the State of Missouri to name the exclusive commission that administers the liquor laws applicable in that city?
11. Do you want St. Louis or the State to name the police commission that controls the metropolitan police department of that city?

The words "Yes," "No," will appear on the ballot opposite each of these measures. The voter that scratches out the "Yes" votes against the proposition. He who marks out the "No" votes in favor of the proposition. Nothing could be easier or simpler. All the propositions this year are so simple a school boy can understand them. Each measure may be remembered by its number, or may be recognized by its ballot title. The number, title and full text will be found on the ballot, but no voter is expected to wait till he gets in the voting booth to read the full text. The man that waits till that hour to acquaint himself with the text, and who would find it necessary to read the full text then in order to decide which way to vote, better entirely ignore the constitutional ballot and refuse to vote any part of it. Intelligent judgment is the bulwark of good popular government. Information well disseminated and digested increases intelligence and aids judgment as expressed by the ballot. In the great work of arousing public sentiment on current issues, I crave the activity and assistance of the press of the State, for the newspapers are the teachers of the masses and the corner stone of the commonwealth. On them rest the progress and perpetuity of every republic.

Defeats Skidmore in Well Played Game Score 6 to 4.

Company F baseball team defeated the Skidmore team Sunday afternoon at Riffe's park by a score of 6 to 4. Alley for Company F and Bundy for Skidmore pitched steady ball, with Alley having the best of the argument, each allowing seven hits. Wilson, who started the game behind the bat for the Soldiers was hurt in the second inning by a foul tip and retired in favor of Howery. A one hand stop by Palmer in deep short back of third and getting his man at first was easily the feature of the game. The hit looked good for two bases. McKenzie was passed three times and scored the first two runs for the Company.

WANTS HIS CHILD

GRIFFEY WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS HEARING UP TODAY

MISTREATED HIS WIFE?

Testimony of Several Witnesses Told of the Trouble Between the Two Before Death of His Wife

The hearing of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by John T. Griffey for the possession of his two-months-old child was up in circuit court today before Judge W. C. Ellison and at press time the hearing was still in progress.

The child's mother, Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey, died in April, and her mother, Mrs. Mary J. Scott has had care and custody of the child and since then.

Mr. Griffey, on the witness stand told of the request of his wife on her deathbed that her mother should raise the child and that he declined to grant it. It was also brought out that Griffey couldn't get along with his mother-in-law and according to Griffey, she had caused some trouble between him and his wife, but however, no serious trouble.

Mr. Griffey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Griffey, were witnesses and many others testified to the young man's good character and habits.

Other witnesses testified that Griffey abused and mistreated his wife.

Cook, Cummins & Dawson represented Mr. Griffey, while Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison and A. F. Harvey represented Mrs. Scott.

According to the will of Mrs. Griffey, whose estate is valued at $50,000, the property is left to her mother and child. The will was written a short time before her death and was filed in probate court a day after Mr. Griffey took out Letters of Administration on his wife's estate.

The court room was crowded at the hearing, many people being farmers and their families living northwest of the city where Mr. and Mrs. Griffey resided.

Mrs. Stella Epperson went to Savannah Monday to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. Ada Davidson, whose body was brought from her home in Washington, to be buried at Savannah.

THE CLASS SERMON

REV. FINCH DELIVERED SERMON TO HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

CLASS CONTAINS THIRTY

Musical Numbers by Choir of Christian Church and Quartet—Large Crowd in Attendance.

Rev. R. L. Finch, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered the class sermon before the graduates of the high school at that church Sunday night.

During the processional by organist Dr. D. J. Thomas, the members of the class accompanied by Principal Clyde Busby, and Superintendent W. M. Westbrook, entered in a body and were seated in a reserved section. Preceding the sermon two musical numbers were given, a duet by Mrs. Alpha Bishop and Mr. Hal Catterson, and an anthem by the First Christian church choir. After the sermon a quartet composed of Miss Phyllis Saylor, Mrs. F. P. Robinson, W. E. Goforth and H. J. Becker sang.

Rev. Finch, in his sermon on "Shifting Gears," gave some very potent admonitions to the young students.

"By a little hasty computation, I have figured that you have used up about ten thousand hours in the last four years," said Rev. Finch in the beginning of his address, "and this event means much to you. What can you do and what do you know is the question the world asks, and it is up to you to show it how you can appropriate the power that is your heritage from ages past. God permits man to know his secrets a little at a time and all the knowledge of the centuries past is yours to use and adjust the conditions for yourself. The world has poured power into your lap of each of you that is yet unclaimed. That is the power of two realms, nature and the spirit. God has meant that every act of the natural and material world should contribute to the realm of the spiritual. In this I include the realm of the ideal, that of art-God's thoughts on canvas; that of music—the symphonies of the Infinite; that of poetry—God's words for you. These are as truly facts at what the senses reveal. I am hoping you will think of these things. Success and money will be sought, but I am hoping you will think of these other things first. The hilly country is coming to you and the main thing is to keep going, faces to the front."

STORM DID DAMAGE

WIND AND HAIL STORM NEAR SKIDMORE SATURDAY EVENING.

FRUIT TREES RUINED

Two Inches of Rain in Less Than Five Minutes—Wheat and Barley at Junction Also Had Hail

The community around Skidmore Saturday evening had quite a wind storm which took the form of a cyclone and considerable damage was done, such as roofs of houses, sheds and trees being blown off and down. The cyclone traveled a distance of six miles and extended over a distance of two miles wide, crossing the river about a mile north of Skidmore.

The storm lasted about three or five minutes, according to the people in that community and was accompanied by hail and a heavy rain, it being estimated that two inches of rain fell in that short time. Corn, wheat, and oats were badly damaged in places.

The storm badly damaged the orchard of R. G. Medsker and twenty-five apple trees were blown down. At C. W. Barrett's place, a mile west of Skidmore, his orchard was badly damaged, many trees being blown down, and his large barn was wrecked so bad that it will have to be practically rebuilt.

W. M. Howden sustained a loss of 200 apple trees in his fine orchard and many others were badly hurt. The tenant house in his orchard was blown off of the foundation.

At J. F. Brown, two miles west of Skidmore, a large hay barn and trees around were destroyed.

At the Cottrill farm, a corner was blown out of the large barn and cottonwood trees in the barn lot from two to three feet in diameter were twisted off, leaving only the stumps. Part of the roof of the Cottrill house was also blown off. Twenty-five apple trees were also blown out by the roots.

At the farms of W. J. Hitchcock and J. S. Mitchell, hog sheds were blown down, barn doors taken off, and at R. I. Bilby's place, a corrugated hog shed was unroofed. Robert Linville and Ernest Montgomery also sustained losses from the storm, such as the fence and hog sheds being blown down. A corn crib on Ernest Montgomery's place was destroyed.

Tom Montgomery estimated that 30 acres of his wheat is practically ruined by the hail and Ambrose Collins says that 20 acres of his wheat was destroyed.

Many other farmers reported some damage to their crops and that corn was badly washed.

Wilcox also had a hail and a good rain Saturday night, while at Burlington Junction, a few miles distant, no rain fell. At Maryville, only a shower was had.

Miss La Rue Kemp and Miss Audrey Howendobler entertained the Young Ladies Missionary society of the First Methodist church Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Kemp. The regular program of study was followed and in the absence of the president, Mrs. T. L. Wadley, the vice officer presided. The study was devoted to the study of Africa, Malaysia and the Philippines. Mrs. T. B. Maulding read an interesting article on "Important African Missions;" Mrs. Emmett Scott took up the topic of "Early and Present Work in Africa and "Our Missions in Malaysia" was discussed by Mrs. Gilbert S. Cox. "Yesterday and Today in Malaysia" was told of by Miss Howendobler and Mrs. J. W. Herndon concluded the program by a reading on "A Short Story of a Long Bondage." During the social hour, the company was entertained with a victrola program. The meeting closed the session for the summer months of July and August. The annual election of officers and picnic will be held in early September.

Spot Cash Of Course

It goes without saying, the only business enterprise on earth today is the Automobile Business and its trimmings, and the trimmings are largely made up of casings and tubes, and its this part of the enterprise to which we shall give a portion of our time in the future.

We shall keep a large stock of the "Pullman", and there are none better made, and our prices are in a class by themselves, viz:

30x3½ plain tread, clincher or straight side.....	12.75
32x3½ plain tread, clincher or straight side.....	13.50
34x4 plain tread, clincher or straight side.....	19.25
35x4 plain tread, clincher or straight side.....	20.00
35x4½ plain tread, clincher or straight side.....	26.50
For Non-Skid add $1.00

30x3 "Monitor" red tubes, heaviest made.....	$2.50
30x3½ "Monitor" red tubes, heaviest made.....	3.50
34x4 "Monitor" red tubes, heaviest made.....	4.25
35x4 "Monitor" red tubes, heaviest made.....	4.50

For your information, I shall venture for 1914, there will be more cars sold in Maryville than there are cultivators. Why not? "Business before pleasure".

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by T. J. Parle and at all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

BLOCKADE MAY BRING ON WAR

Huerta's Boats Before Tampico
Bring Startling Complication.

UNITED STATES NAVY ON ALERT

Two Cruisers Follow Huerta Gunboats on Way to Disputed Port—Admiral Badger Instructed to Keep Port Open to All Commerce.

Washington, June 8.—The administration faces a new crisis in the Mexican situation. It is a situation fraught with perils for mediation, and with possibilities that may precipitate war between the United States and Mexico.

General Huerta brought about the crisis by ordering gunboats to blockade the port of Tampico and to seize a cargo of ammunition en route there for the constitutionalists, aboard the steamer Antilla, from New York, flying the Cuban flag. Huerta has notified the powers of his intention to blockade the port and that he proposes to seize the cargo consigned to the belligerents against his sovereignty as contraband of war.

Statement From Daniels.

The purpose of the United States to suppress the attempt to blockade and prevent interference with the Antilla was indicated when Secretary Daniels issued an official statement announcing that while no new orders have been given Rear Admiral Badger, there has been no change in the policy of the government in reference to its desire that the port of Tampico shall be open to all commerce. The statement follows:

"The navy department has issued no new orders to Admiral Badger since the Mexican gunboats were reported to be leaving Puerto Mexico. The department has at no time contemplated furnishing a convoy to the Antilla, or any other ship, nor have any orders to that effect been issued. No word whatever has been received as to whether warships of other nations have been notified of the blockade at Tampico, or what their attitude will be toward such a blockade. There has been no change in the policy of the government in reference to its desire that the port of Tampico shall be open to all commerce."

GOOD AND THE BAD

PROPOSITIONS ON THE CONSTITUTIONAL BALLOT

EDUCATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Inaugurated Has for its Object the Exercise of Discrimination Between the Two

The campaign of education recently inaugurated by Secretary of State Cornelius Roach which has for its object an exercise of discrimination between the good and the bad propositions on the constitutional ballot by the voters next November is bearing fruit. Last week there were 278 rural newspapers in the state that gave to their readers the substance of the twelve measures that are proposed, eight being amendments to the Constitution and four referendum acts. These newspapers have an average circulation of 2,000 and thus directly reached approximately 556,000 of the 750,000 voters in the state. The fact that there is manifestly no probability of an early constitutional convention impresses the average citizen with the necessity of exercising his judgment at the polls on those measures as they are submitted separately at successive general elections. The history reveals that many measures defeated the first time submitted have been adopted at subsequent elections, and that voters in recent elections more favorably consider these proposed amendments than formerly. If this were not the case, the initiative and referendum amendment would not have been approved at the polls in 1908, for all that amendment did in this state was to add the enacting of statutory law to the power of constitutional law-making, which the Missouri voter has had ever since the adoption of the Constitution of 1875.

One important and interesting fact in connection with this subject which is better understood than formerly is that the majority of those voting on a measure decides the fate of that measure. If a measure receives one hundred thousand and one affirmative votes and one hundred thousand negative votes it becomes the law, regardless of how many hundred thousand votes more or less may have been polled at the same election for candidates for any office, or for any other measure.

The law in this state now provides for the printing of a ballot with the names of all the candidates thereon separate from the ballot containing the legislative measures. The voter that does not use the latter ballot is not counted either for or against any measure on that ballot. If he knows or cares nothing about these measures he displays better intelligence by not using the ballot than does the voter who takes the ballot and votes indiscriminately either for all the measures or against all the measures, with no regard for the merits of each. Friends of the initiative and referendum law, and the friends of good government generally, will advise that every voter exercise a discriminating judgment, favoring the good and opposing the bad. This ought not to be expecting too much from citizens enjoying a republican form of government in a state that has had universal free schools for generations.

Boiled down, the questions to decide this year in the order as they will appear on the ballot are as follows.

1. Do you, or do you not, want taxation questions handled by the general assembly only, or by popular vote?
2. Do you, or do you not, want to permit Kansas City to own its public utilities?
3. Do you, or do you not, want the state to levy a mill tax for aid in improving public roads?
4. Do you, or do you not, want to give St. Louis debt-making power to build or buy a subway for the purposes of rapid transit?
5. Do you, or do you not, want to give voters of a special or general road district power by majority vote to levy a local tax for good roads?
6. Do you, or do you not, want the state to provide pensions for the deserving blind?
7. Do you, or do you not, approve of making it easier for Kansas City and St. Louis to amend their charters?
8. Do you, or do you not, wish to fix by law the number of men a railroad company shall employ to make a "full crew" for operating certain trains?
9. Do you, or do you not, approve making the county the basic unit for regulating the liquor traffic?
10. Do you want St. Louis or the State of Missouri to name the excise commission that administers the liquor laws applicable in that city?

12. Do you want St. Louis or the State to name the police commission that controls the metropolitan police department of that city?

The words "Yes," "No," will appear on the ballot opposite each of these measures. The voter that scratches out the "Yes" votes against the proposition. He who marks out the "No" votes in favor of the proposition. Nothing could be easier or simpler. All the propositions this year are so simple a school boy can understand them. Each measure may be remembered by its number, or may be recognized by its ballot title. The number, title and full text will be found on the ballot, but no voter is expected to wait till he gets in the voting booth to read the full text. The man that waits till that hour to acquaint himself with the text, and who would find it necessary to read the full text then in order to decide which way to vote, better entirely ignore the constitutional ballot and refuse to vote any part of it. Intelligent judgment is the bulwark of good popular government. Information well disseminated and digested increases intelligence and aids judgment as expressed by the ballot. In the great work of arousing public sentiment on current issues, I crave the activity and assistance of the press of the State, for the newspapers are the teachers of the masses and the corner stone of the commonwealth. On them rest the progress and perpetuity of every republic.

Company F baseball team defeated the Skidmore team Sunday afternoon at Riffe's park by a score of 6 to 4. Alley for Company F and Bundy for Skidmore pitched steady ball, with Alley having the best of the argument, each allowing seven hits. Wilson, who started the game behind the bat for the Soldiers was hurt in the second inning by a foul tip and retired in favor of Howerly. A one hand stop by Palmer in deep short back of third and getting his man at first was easily the feature of the game. The hit looked good for two bases. WANTS HIS CHILD

MISTREATED HIS WIFE?

Testimony of Several Witnesses Told of the Trouble Between the Two Before Death of His Wife

The hearing of the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by John T. Griffey for the possession of his two-months-old child was up in circuit court today before Judge W. C. Ellison and at press time the hearing was still in progress.

The child's mother, Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey, died in April, and her mother, Mrs. Mary J. Scott has had care and custody of the child and since then.

Mr. Griffey, on the witness stand told of the request of his wife on her deathbed that her mother should raise the child and that he declined to grant it. It was also brought out that Griffey couldn't get along with his mother-in-law and according to Griffey, she had caused some trouble between him and his wife, but however, no serious trouble.

Mr. Griffey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Griffey, were witnesses and many others testified to the young man's good character and habits.

Other witnesses testified that Griffey abused and mistreated his wife. Cook, Cummins & Dawson represented Mr. Griffey, while Shinabargar, Blagg & Ellison and A. F. Harvey represented Mrs. Scott.

According to the will of Mrs. Griffey, whose estate is valued at $50,000, the property is left to her mother and child. The will was written a short time before her death and was filed in probate court a day after Mr. Griffey took out Letters of Administration on his wife's estate.

The court room was crowded at the hearing, many people being farmers and their families living northwest of the city where Mr. and Mrs. Griffey resided.

Mrs. Stella Epperson went to Savannah Monday to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. Ada Davidson, whose body was brought from her home in Washington, to be buried at Savannah.

THE CLASS SERMON

REV. FINCH DELIVERED SERMON TO HIGH SCHOOL CLASS

CLASS CONTAINS THIRTY

Musical Numbers by Choir of Christian Church and Quartet—Large Crowd in Attendance.

Rev. R. L. Finch, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered the class sermon before the graduates of the high school at that church Sunday night.

During the processional by organist Dr. D. J. Thomas, the members of the class accompanied by Principal Clyde Busby, and Superintendent W. M. Westbrook, entered in a body and were seated in a reserved section. Preceding the sermon two musical numbers were given, a duet by Mrs. Alpha Bishop and Mr. Hal Catterson, and an anthem by the First Christian church choir. After the sermon a quartet composed of Miss Phyllis Saylor, Mrs. F. P. Robinson, W. E. Goforth and H. J. Becker sang.

Rev. Finch, in his sermon on "Shifting Gears," gave some very potent admonitions to the young students.

"By a little hasty computation, I have figured that you have used up about ten thousand hours in the last four years," said Rev. Finch in the beginning of his address, "and this event means much to you. What can you do and what do you know is the question the world asks, and it is up to you to show it how you can appropriate the power that is your heritage from ages past. God permits man to know his secrets a little at a time and all the knowledge of the centuries past is yours to use and adjust the conditions for yourself. The world has poured power into your lap of each of you that is yet unclaimed. That is the power of two realms, nature and the spirit. God has meant that every act of the natural and material world should contribute to the realm of the spiritual. In this I include the realm of the ideal, that of art-God's thoughts on canvas; that of music—the symphonies of the Infinite; that of poetry—God's words for you. These are as truly facts at what the senses reveal. I am hoping you will think of these things. Success and money will be sought, but I am hoping you will think of these other things first. The hilly country is coming to you and the main thing is to keep going, faces to the front."

STORM DID DAMAGE

WIND AND HAIL STORM NEAR SKIDMORE SATURDAY EVENING

FRUIT TREES RUINED

Two Inches of Rain in Less Than Five Minutes—Wilcox and Burlington Junction Also Had Hail

The community around Skidmore Saturday evening had quite a wind storm which took the form of a cyclone and considerable damage was done, such as roofs of houses, sheds and trees being blown off and down. The cyclone traveled a distance of six miles and extended over a distance of two miles wide, crossing the river about a mile north of Skidmore.

The storm lasted about three or five minutes, according to the people in that community and was accompanied by hail and a heavy rain. It being estimated that two inches of rain fell in that short time. Corn, wheat, and oats were badly damaged in places.

The storm badly damaged the orchard of R. G. Medsker and twenty-five apple trees were blown down. At C. W. Barrett's place, a mile west of Skidmore, his orchard was also badly damaged, many trees being blown down, and his large barn was wrecked so bad that it will have to be practically rebuilt.

W. M. Howden sustained a loss of 200 apple trees in his fine orchard, and many others were badly hurt. The tenant house in his orchard was blown off of the foundation.

At J. F. Brown, two miles west of Skidmore, a large hay barn and trees around were destroyed.

At the Cottrill farm, a corner was blown out of the large barn and cottonwood trees in the barn lot from two to three feet in diameter were twisted off, leaving only the stumps. Part of the roof of the Cottrill house was also blown off. Twenty-five apple trees were also blown out by the roots.

At the farms of W. J. Hitchcock and J. S. Mitchell, hog sheds were blown down, barn doors taken off, and at R. I. Billy's place, a corrugated hog shed was unroofed. Robert Linville and Ernest Montgomery also sustained losses from the storm, such as the fence and hog sheds being blown down. A corn crib on Ernest Montgomery's place was destroyed.

Tom Montgomery estimated that 30 acres of his wheat is practically ruined by the hail and Ambrose Collins says that 20 acres of his wheat was destroyed.

Many other farmers reported some damage to their crops and that corn was badly washed.

Wilcox also had a hail and a good rain Saturday night, while at Burlington Junction, a few miles distant, no rain fell. At Maryville, only a shower was had.

Will Celebrate the Fourth.

Conception Junction will celebrate the Fourth of July this year and the arrangements are being made now. The program will be held in the grove near Roof lake west of that place.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage.

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by T. J. Parle and at all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

BLOCKADE MAY BRING ON WAR

Huerta's Boats Before Tampico
Bring Starling Complication.

UNITED STATES NAVY ON ALERT

Two Cruisers Follow Huerta Gunboats on Way to Disputed Port—Admiral Badger Instructed to Keep Port Open to All Commerce.

Washington, June 8.—The administration faces a new crisis in the Mexican situation. It is a situation fraught with perils for mediation, and with possibilities that may precipitate war between the United States and Mexico.

General Huerta brought about the crisis by ordering gunboats to blockade the port of Tampico and to seize a cargo of ammunition en route there for the constitutionalists, aboard the steamer Antilla, from New York, flying the Cuban flag. Huerta has notified the powers of his intention to blockade the port and that he proposes to seize the cargo consigned to the belligerents against his sovereignty as contraband of war.

Statement From Daniels.

The purpose of the United States to suppress the attempt to blockade and prevent interference with the Antilla was indicated when Secretary Daniels issued an official statement announcing that while no new orders have been given Rear Admiral Badger, there has been no change in the policy of the government in reference to its desire that the port of Tampico shall be open to all commerce. The statement follows:

"The navy department has issued no new orders to Admiral Badger since the Mexican gunboats were reported to be leaving Puerto Mexico. The department has at no time contemplated furnishing a convoy to the Antilla, or any other ship, nor have any orders to that effect been issued. No word whatever has been received as to whether warships of other nations have been notified of the blockade at Tampico, or what their attitude will be toward such a blockade. There has been no change in the policy of the government in reference to its desire that the port of Tampico shall be open to all commerce."

Big Wall Paper and Paint Sale.

While in the city I purchased 4000 rolls of Wall Paper at a very low price. I am going to sell every roll of it at cost price. This paper is not a job lot assortment of odds and ends, but every pattern is a good one. I know how to buy wall paper, sell wall paper and also hang wall paper. Price for hanging butt work the best 20c per roll. Lap work 10c per roll. I guarantee all work to be first class.
